HOW YOUR PERSONAL DATA IS COLLECTED

We collect most of this information directly from you. However, we may also collect information:

- from publicly accessible sources, e.g. Companies House or HM Land Registry;
- directly from a third party, e.g.: client due diligence providers;
- from a third party with your consent, e.g.: your bank or building society, your employer or your doctor;
- via our website—we use cookies on our website (Please see the Privacy Policy on our website www.sprakekingsley.co.uk);
- via our information technology (IT) systems, e.g.: document management system.

HOW AND WHY WE USE YOUR PERSONAL DATA

Under data protection law, we can only use your personal data if we have a proper reason for doing so, e.g.:

- to comply with our legal and regulatory obligations;
- for the performance of our contract with you or to take steps at your request before entering into a contract;
- for our legitimate interests or those of a third party; or
- where you have given consent.

A legitimate interest is when we have a business or commercial reason to use your information, so long as this is not overridden by your own rights and interests.

The table below explains what we use (process) your personal data for and our reasons for doing so:

What we use your personal data for	Our reasons
To provide legal services to you	For the performance of our contract with you or to take steps at your request before entering into a contract
Conducting checks to identify our clients, verify their identity and screening Other processing necessary to comply with professional, legal and regulatory obligations that apply to our business	To comply with our legal and regulatory obligations
Gathering and providing information required by or relating to audits, enquiries or investigations by regulatory bodies	To comply with our legal and regulatory obligations
Updating and enhancing client records and statistical analysis to help us manage our practice; ensuring safe working practices	For the performance of our contract with you or to take steps at your request before entering into a contract To comply with our legal and regulatory obligations For our legitimate interests or those of a third party, e.g. making sure that we can keep in touch with our clients about existing and new services
Marketing our services and those of selected third parties to existing and former clients	For our legitimate interests or those of a third party, i.e. to promote our business to existing and former clients
External audits and quality checks, e.g. for CQS accreditation and the audit of our accounts	For our legitimate interests or those of a third party, i.e. to maintain our accreditations so we can demonstrate we operate at the highest standards To comply with our legal and regulatory obligations

The above table does not apply to special category personal data, which we will only process with your explicit consent.

PROMOTIONAL COMMUNICATIONS

We may use your personal data to send you updates (by email, text message, telephone or post) about legal developments that might be of interest to you and/or information about our services, including exclusive offers, promotions or new services (see above 'How and why we use your personal data').

We will always treat your personal data with the utmost respect and never sell OR share it with other organisations. You have the right to opt out of receiving promotional communications at any time by contacting our Office Manager. You can do this by sending a letter, by phone or by sending an email to info@sprakekingsley.co.uk

WHO WE SHARE YOUR PERSONAL DATA WITH

We routinely share personal data with:

- professional advisers who we instruct on your behalf or refer you to, e.g. barristers, medical professionals, accountants, tax advisors or other experts;
- other third parties where necessary to carry out your instructions, e.g. your mortgage provider or HM Land Registry in the case of a property transaction or Companies House;
- credit reference agencies;
- our insurers, brokers and external service suppliers;
- external auditors, e.g. in relation to CQS accreditation and the audit of our accounts;
- our banks.

We only allow our service providers to handle your personal data if we are satisfied they take appropriate measures to protect your personal data. We also impose contractual obligations on service providers to ensure they can only use your personal data to provide services to us and to you.

We may disclose and exchange information with law enforcement agencies and regulatory bodies to comply with our legal and regulatory obligations. This may include overseas agencies.

We may also need to share some personal data with other parties, such as potential buyers of some or all of our business or during a re-structuring. Usually, information will be anonymised but this may not always be possible. The recipient of the information will be bound by confidentiality obligations.

We will not share your personal data with any other third party.

WHERE YOUR PERSONAL DATA IS HELD

Information may be held at our offices and those of our third-party agencies, service providers, representatives and agents as described above (see 'Who we share your personal data with').

HOW LONG YOUR PERSONAL DATA WILL BE KEPT

We will keep your personal data after we have finished advising or acting for you. We will do so for one of these reasons:

- to respond to any questions, complaints or claims made by you or on your behalf;
- to show that we treated you fairly;
- to keep records required by law or our professional regulatory bodies.

We will not retain your data for longer than necessary for the purposes set out in this policy. Different retention periods apply for different types of data. Further details on this are available in our Data Retention Guidelines. You may request a copy of these guidelines from our Office Manager or they are available on our website.

When it is no longer necessary to retain your personal data, we will delete or anonymise it.

and
- let us know what right you want to exercise and the information to which your request relates.

KEEPING YOUR PERSONAL DATA SECURE KEEPING YOUR PERSONAL DATA SECURE

We have appropriate security measures to prevent personal data from being accidentally lost or used or accessed unlawfully. We limit access to your personal data to those who have a genuine business need to access it. Those processing your information will do so only in an authorised manner and are subject to a duty of confidentiality.

We also have procedures in place to deal with any suspected data security breach. We will notify you and any applicable regulator of a suspected data security breach where we are legally required to do so. Our systems and procedures take into account the size and risk profile of our business and cannot be totally guaranteed.

HOW TO COMPLAIN

We hope that our Data Protection Officer can resolve any query or concern you may raise about our use of your information.

You are entitled to lodge a complaint with the supervisory authority, the Information Commissioner (ICO) who may be contacted at <https://ico.org.uk/make-a-complaint/>
